

Your Financial Behavior Report

Hugh Massie: Initiator

Provided by your advisor: Leon Morales

Initiators like to take bold, aggressive actions and create the rules.

Your Financial Behavior

Your results show that you're opportunistic in your approach to money. This means you like to jump at an opportunity when it comes to investing. You're comfortable taking a high level of risks to aggressively make more money.

Your Behavioral Biases

These biases may get in the way of wise decision making. Your advisor will discuss strategies to help you manage your instincts in your financial plan.

Over Trading - Tends to be impatient to get results and may sell at the wrong time.

Over Confidence - Can think they are more successful at investing than they really are.

Your keys to adopting a plan

- Provide me with the big picture
- Present me with action plans
- Present me with opportunities

The Importance of Understanding Your Financial Behavior

For advisors to provide valuable advice, it is key that they understand you and your goals. Measuring and discussing your financial behavior is a first step for your advisor to get to know you. Your financial behavior describes how you make decisions around money, your communication style, how you react to market events, and what motivates you to achieve your goals. These elements help drive a financial plan that is appropriate and custom for you.

Other factors may influence the investment strategy that is ideal for you such as;

- Amount of time you planned to achieve your goals
- Risk and return required to achieve your financial goals.
- Experiences such as education, upbringing, and life lessons that may have changed your approach to finances throughout your lifetime.
